Visitor's Guide

The Adventure Begins...

We are located on Maryland's Eastern Shore, along the Chesapeake Bay and close to the Atlantic Ocean. With miles of tidal bays, rivers, and lush woodlands, this is nature's masterpiece, a paradise for outdoor sportsmen, recreationalists, nature lovers, and the ideal backdrop for family entertainment.

www.visitsomerset.com

Visit our website for more information and discover the natural charm of historic port cities and towns. Opportunities abound for fishing and crabbing, hunting, boating, paddling, peddling, birdwatching, and sightseeing. Dine on fresh seafood and the Maryland State Dessert, Smith Island Cake. Take home a Somerset souvenir from a unique shop.

Discover our heritage and history at local attractions, museums and annual events. Stay at one of our cozy, comfortable accommodations.

Adventure Awaits!

Somerset County

Welcome to Somerset County, Maryland! Whether you're seeking a peaceful retreat, a journey through history, or simply a taste of Eastern Shore hospitality, there is something for everyone. Nestled along the picturesque shores of the Chesapeake Bay, Somerset County beckons visitors with its tranquil landscapes, vibrant cultural heritage, and a wealth of outdoor adventures waiting to be discovered.

Tour Crisfield, Maryland's southernmost community

The City of Crisfield is a quintessential Chesapeake Bay experience. This waterfront town has a style all its own. Whether you arrive by car or by boat, it's worth spending a day walking around shopping, dining, and seeing the sights that can only happen in the Crab Capital.

Stroll the Town of Princess Anne

A rare combination of the past and present, the County Seat of Princess Anne has been nestled along the banks of the Manokin River since 1733. The town offers dining, shopping, with pleasant, walkable streets lined with a wide variety of historical homes and buildings. History truly lives here, but so does the future - The University of Maryland Eastern Shore's cultural scene and the promise of higher education's limitless opportunities light the path to tomorrow.

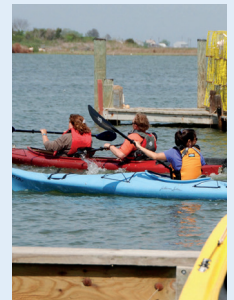

Set sail in Deal Island

Deal Island is known as "Home of the Skipjacks", America's last commercial fishing fleet powered by sail. A number of these special vessels still work the water, bringing harvests of Chesapeake Bay oysters to market. Take a cruise on this Maryland icon and step aboard a piece of history.

Experience life on a Chesapeake Bay Island, Smith Island

Smith Island is Maryland's only inhabited island accessible only by boat. The small villages of Ewell, Rhodes Point, and Tylerton invite you to visit and find terrific food, including the Maryland State Dessert - Smith Island Cake. As you stroll the streets, breathe in the salt air, culture, and the vibe of island life.

EXPLORE MORE

Chesapeake Country All-American Road

[visitmaryland.org/scenic-byways/
chesapeake-country](http://visitmaryland.org/scenic-byways/chesapeake-country)

The Federally designated byway starts in Chesapeake City and stretches 419 miles through the Eastern Shore before ending in Crisfield. It offers the opportunity to explore the natural beauty, cultural heritage, and maritime history of one of America's most scenic and historic regions.

Beach to Bay Indian Trail

A National Recreation Trail, the byway recognizes the patterns established by the American Indians and followed by the first European immigrants, with fishing, farming, and timbering as principal activities. These patterns are deeply imprinted on the land and can be seen in relatively undisturbed settings along the Trail, continuing the tradition of travel for discovery on the Lower Eastern Shore.

Great Chesapeake Bay Loop

bay-loop](http://visitmaryland.org/great-chesapeake-bay-loop)

Explore Maryland's Chesapeake Bay, the largest estuary in the United States and a place of serene beauty. Breathe in the slightly salty air; taste the flavors of fresh seafood bounty and the farms that line the shores; enjoy waterfront towns; talk to the locals, some of whom have lingering accents from their ancestors who settled the area over 300 years ago; and feel the freedom of escaping land and being on the water.
